

Daily Devotional 2

Don't you have a saying, 'It's still four months until harvest'? I tell you, open your eyes and look at the fields! They are ripe for harvest.

(John 4:35)

Workers out in the field

Jock and Katy Hughes have been working with the Dobel people of Indonesia's Aru Islands for the last 35 years. The work has already had a wonderful impact among the growing churches there, and they're now just five years away from having the entire New Testament completed.

Wycliffe has over 360 workers from the UK and Ireland, plus even more local people working alongside them. The work is often challenging, sometimes isolated, and in all cases, a very long-term calling to see God's word brought into in the heart language of the local population.

Prayer focus – Wycliffe workers

- Pray for our members who have left the comfort of home to help bring God's word to the nations – for their protection, encouragement and success
- Pray for the many local workers whose insight and cultural understanding is vital to good translation work – that they themselves might find new revelation of God's goodness through the work, and that through them God would impact their communities
- Pray for all those working for Wycliffe who support the work of our overseas members – the management, support and technical teams, and everyone who contributes to Wycliffe's mission.
- Please pray for Jock and Katy, their family, and the dedicated team they're working with to see this work completed for the 10,000 speakers of Dobel.
